PROPOSALS
For Publishing, by Subscription,
THE COMPLETE WORKS OF
SIR WALTER SCOTT:
With a Biography: being the first American (and only) edition which contains the Author's last additions and illustrations, arranged upon their respective pages.

A COMPLETE and uniform edition of the various productions of the great 'Minstrel of the North,' is a desideratum with the American public. No library is complete without them, and no edition extant is sufficiently compact for such a repository; while the endless number of editions, without any uniformity in size, heretofore published, besides being exceedingly cumbrous, are far too voluminous and expensive to be within the reach of the great majority of readers. The undersigned therefore announce, that they have now in press, and will issue, an edition of the Works of Sir Walter Scott, which will embrace all his Poems, Novels, Histories, Biographies, and Fugitive Compositions, as well as the Biography and Private Correspondence, now in the course of publication in England, under the superintendence of Mr. Lockhart.

1st. In Parts: each Part embracing as much matter as is contained in two volumes of the present editions of the Waverley Novels, which will be put at the unprecedented low price of THIRTY SEVEN AND A HALF CENTS.

2d. Two parts will appear each month; but should the publishers find the work to meet the patronage they anticipate, FOUR PARTS will be issued monthly.

3d. The whole will be completed in seven volumes, or forty eight parts.

The paper on which the above is now printing, has been made expressly for the purpose; the present parts may, therefore, be considered a fair specimen, in every respect, of the whole work; but, should dissatisfaction arise with any subscriber, owing to an inferior article being offered, he may discontinue at any time, and have the amount paid returned.

Note.—The publication of the first volume is deferred until the receipt of the Biography, Private Correspondence, and the New Edition of the Author's Poetical Works, with 'contemporary criticism—various readings—and correspondence with some of the most eminent persons of the time when the Poems first appeared,' now in the course of publication in England.

Volume 1 will be ornamented with an excellent Portrait of Sir Walter Scott.

DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, SEPT. 17, 1833.

THE PREMIUM is the title of a very neat little book, recently published by Messrs. Carey, Lea, and Blanchard, Philadelphia, and now for sale by Messrs. John I. Kay & Co., Market street, Pittsburgh.—It is intended as a present at all seasons; and is composed of judicious selections, in prose and verse, from English and American authors, of the present century.

The mechanical execution of the work is very neat; and, altogether, the little work is well adapted to the purpose for which it was prepared.

☞MR. WEBSTER'S SPEECH.—We have received two copies of the address delivered by this gentleman, at Pittsburgh, as corrected by himself.

THE MAD RIVER AND LAKE ERIE RAIL ROAD.—We select, to day, from the New York Spectator, a very full account of this great and important contemplated improvement, and of the country through which it passes. This Rail Road is a work well worthy the enterprize and public spirit of the citizens of New York; and will, unless counteracted, direct to that city much of the trade of the fertile and improving country through which it passes. Fortunately, however, for this state, this counteraction may readily be effected; and all the expense, and enterprize, and labor of the citizens of New York, may readily be converted to the advantage of Pennsylvenia. Several different plans have been suggested for this purpose. One, which has been strenuously urged by the citizens of Columbiana and Starke counties, Ohio, and by many of the citizens of this city, is the completion of a rail road from this city to Massillon, and its extension in a line nearly due west, to the Mad River Rail Road, near upper Sandusky, passing through, or near the county towns of Wooster, Mansfield, and Bucyrus. The distance from Massillon to the Rail Road would be about ninety miles, making the whole distance from Pittsburgh, a little less than two hundred miles. Another plan, is to complete the most eligible connection with the Ohio Canal, and then extend a Rail Road from Cleveland to Sandusky city, along the lake, a distance of about fifty seven miles by the present road. A third plan is, to complete the best connection with the Ohio Canal, and to rely upon the advantage which nature gives us, in contending for the trade afloat on lake Erie, by its earlier opening at Cleveland in the spring, and its longer continued navigableness at that place in the fall. The latter plan has the recommendation of being the least expensive, and it can be the more safely adopted, because it is of itself a most important improvement, and because, if it should prove insufficient to secure the trade of the Mad River Rail Road, it would at least secure that of the country through which the Canal passes, and might afterwards be perfected by a Rail Road, either from Massillon or Akron or Cleveland, if deemed necessary.

The New York editor takes great credit to his fellow citizens, for their enterprize and public spirit—they well deserve it; and we trust that their example will be followed by the citizens of the metropolis of Pennsylvania.

ENGLAND.

Sir John Key has resigned his office of Lord Mayor of London. The election takes place on Monday. Mr. Francis Kemble is the only candidate at present.

[The Boston Daily Advertiser gives the following explanation of the causes of his resignation. Sir John Key was Mayor of London three years ago, but, we believe, was an Alderman at the period referred to here, and held, besides, a seat in the House of Commons, as one of the representatives of the city. According to our last accounts from England, he had resigned his seat as a member of the house, and it is probably this office for which Mr. Kemble is a candidate. The following is the reason assigned for his resignation. He held a large contract for the supply of Government with stationery, which is kept in a separate office, under the charge of a store keeper. Mr. Lawrence, who had been store keeper for some years, resigned, and Sir John applied to Earl Grey to appoint his son, aged 18 years, to the vacant place. This was refused, on account of his youth, and the Alderman then requested that the office might be given to his eldest son, whom he represented as 22. The appointment was accordingly made, and, as it was afterwards discovered, that the person who received the office was the same for whom it was at first requested, the story of the elder son being an entire fabrication.]

The Princess Victoria had a narrow escape for her life. She was on board a tender to the Royal George yacht, accompanied by the Duchess of Kent, when the tender ran foul of a hulk; the shock was so great, that the main mast of the vessel was sprung in two places, and her sail and gaff precipitated on deck, where the Duchess and the young Princess were standing. The master of the tender caught up the latter in his arms, and saved her from injury.

In the House of Commons, on the night of the 7th, the Slavery Abolition Bill was read a third time, and passed. Parliament was expected to get through business about the 20th.

In the House of Commons, Lord Althorp held out a hope, that the progress of reductions in the expenditures would enable the Government to remove the inhabited house tax.

PORTUGAL.

Don Pedro and suite arrived at Lisbon from Oporto, in the steam boat William the Fourth, on Sunday, 28th July, at noon. He was received with great enthusiasm. When Admiral Napier went on board the steam boat to pay his respects, the Ex Emperor assisted him up the vessel's side, and embraced him. They had not met before since the battle of St. Vincent. The city rang with shouts of Viva! Donna Maria! Viva! Don Pedro! Lisbon wore an animated appearance, and the change of government was generally hailed as a blessing. Don Miguel was supposed to be with the army in the north, and active measures were in train to expel him from the country. Lisbon had been illuminated every night since it was taken possession of by the Duke of Terceira.

According to some of the Paris Journals, the Portuguese exiles have already received notice that their allowance will cease on the 1st of September; their power to return to their own country by that date, being taken for granted. It is also asserted that the ex-Empress and the Young Queen will give up their Hotel in Paris in all September, which proves that great confidence exists of the entire defeat of Miguel, in quarters likely to be best informed.

The Sun states that the British and French Cabinets have formally signified to the representatives of Don Pedro in this country, their wish for the ex-Emperor to withdraw all pretentions to the Regency, in favor of one of the aunts of Donna Maria; and that instructions have been sent to Lisbon to a distinguished personage, to press such an arrangement, and to secure for it the approbation of the Duke of Palmella.

THE POLES.—The Emperor Nicholas has just issued two decrees, which must excite the indignation of the world. The first is a decree rendering political offences amenable to courts martial, in contravention of the tyrant's "organic statute," of the 22d Feb. 1832, promising a special law, for offences against the state. The second is possibly as strong an act of tyranny as was ever carried into execution in any age of country, however fierce the aspect of the ruling sway—being an official order to punish the teachers and youth of Poland for studying their native language and history. In one word, a semi barbarous people, with the grossest injustice, subject a comparatively enlightened one, and coolly decree the utter destruction of their annals, literature and language.—The students who have been studying their native language and history, are to be sent off to the armies.

An extraordinary execution is to take place at Norwich, next Saturday. At the Spring Assizes in that city, a woman, named Mary Wright, suspected of having, on the 30th of November last, administered poison to her husband and father, who both died at the same time, was tried upon the former charge, and was convicted. It was stated that the prisoner was enceinte, and the sentence, consequently, instead of being executed within 48 hours, was respited till after the birth of her child, should it prove that she was enceinte, and thus the unhappy woman became doomed to suffer several months the anguish of her peculiar situation. Her accouchement took place last month, and the law now demands her life.—London paper.

A Quandary.—The Hon. H. L. Pinckney has been elected to Congress from the district of Charleston, in South Carolina, as the successor of Col. Drayton. He is now, and has been, for perhaps three or four years, one of the fiercest nullifiers, and an advocate for the strictest possible and literal construction of the Constitution of the United States. Among the doctrines which he has most strenuously maintained, is "that there is no such thing, strictly speaking, as a citizen of the United States. The Constitution expressly declares that no person shall be a representative who shall not have been "seven years" "a citizen of the United States." Now, how is Mr. Pinckney to take his seat and the necessary oaths—as a "citizen," not admitting himself to be a "citizen?"—It is a case of conscience for the doctors of Nullification.—Poulson.

John Quincy Adams.—This gentleman, on his return from the White Hills, whither he has been on an excursion for the benefit of his health, passed through town, on Saturday forenoon. It is now forty years since he read law here under Judge Parsons; nor has he, during that time, ever revisited this scene of his early pursuits. The change, however, has not been such as to obliterate the traces of many objects once familiar to him here; and they were viewed by him again with much interest. While at the hotel, a number of gentlemen sought an introduction. Among them was a gentleman, who had in his possession, and exhibited to them a receipt which he gave while a student in Judge Parsons' office.

Mr. A. bears, in his countenance, the marks of ill health and exhaustion: but will be spared, we hope, many years, to serve that country which he has so long honored.—Newburyport Herald.

Winchester and Potomac Rail Road.—Mr. Robison, the engineer, has given public notice that proposals will be received by him in Winchester, till the 7th of November next, for the grading and masonry of the whole line of the road, being 27 miles in extent—commencing near to the town of Winchester, Va., and ending at the Shanandoah river. The line will be divided into sections, of convenient length—so as, in that respect, to accommodate contractors.

J. Hardman, Esq., proprietor of the Sumter Gazette, a nulification paper, printed at Sumterville, announces that its publication will be continued no longer by him. So much for nullification!—Phila. Chron.

The Camel Leopard.—A letter from Malta, dated June 25, says, "An English brig arrived at this port yesterday, from Egypt, having on board an animal called a camel leopard: it having the long neck, body and legs of the former, while it has the eye and spotted skin of the latter beast.

This one was brought to Alexandria from a distance of four thousand miles, and is intended as a present from the pacha of Egypt to the Neapolitan king. One was sent two years since, as a present to the king of England: it survived, after its arrival, nearly a twelve month.

Capt. James Riley, whose book is too well known not sufficiently to identify him, as the experienced navigator, favored us with a visit, yesterday, and exhibited to us a splendid Silk Shawl, made at Fez, the Capital of the dominions of the Emperor of Morocco.

The texture is very thick and firm, the colors, which are of uncommon brilliancy, are crimson, purple, blue, and yellow; and at each end there are very broad borders of fine gold—the shawl containing of that article to the value of four doubloons. What renders this shawl remarkable is the beauty of its texture, but more than all, its splendid dyes. The Captain also introduced to our acquaintance two beautiful Cameleons, who changed their color into many varieties, during our interview; they are, indeed, regular turn coats, not remaining of one hue sufficiently long to identify themselves with any of the many colors emanating from the endless variety of combination to which the various modifications of light give rise.

Some one present queries whether the Cameleon would not make a good politician, since, having his identity at will, he could either adhere to his colors, or leave them, as it might best suit the variety of political faith which distinguishes the present period.

The shawl, Captain Riley informs us, is intended to be presented to the President of the United States.—N. Y. Advocate.

The Canada Forgers.—The annexed extract of a letter from Montreal, dated Sept. 7, affords the satisfactory assurance that justice is about to be done upon these rogues.

"The trial is just ended. Eleven prisoners, with their tools, presses, notes, engraving apparatus, crucibles, false coin, dies, &c. &c. were brought to the bar. Seven out of the eleven have been convicted, which entitles them to two years imprisonment each. One of them has two years and a half, besides the pillory, &c, and four were acquitted. The latter, however, (the four,) will be tried at the next term for coining, &c. New indictments will be brought against all of them at the next term, and they will probably receive from eight to ten years imprisonment."

The Cholera.—This formidable disease still lingers among us, without, we regret to say, much evident abatement. The following is a list of the deaths which have occurred since our last publication—those from Cholera being in Italics, viz:—Mrs. Harding, and Miss Harding, her daughter; Mrs. Walker; Mrs. BRITTON; two CHILDREN of Mr. Williams; a child of Mr. Schoddinger; a CHILD of Mr. William J. Tyler, aged about 18 months; Mr. Bancroft, Mr. COLLINS; Mr. Turner; a child of Mr. Sweet; a CHILD of the late Mr. Roney; William, son of William T. Martin, Esq. aged about 8 years; Mrs. Blackman; Mrs. Jennell; Mr. Compston; and two colored children, whose names we have not learnt.

It is worthy of remark, that the convicts in the Penitentiary, about 200 in number, continue to be totally free from the disease. A large detachment of them are employed daily on the new edifice; and a heartier set of men we never have seen. We understand that they are fed exclusively on bread and salt meat; but whether this is the sole cause of their exemption, we are unable to say.—Columbus (O.) Journal.

Much pother in Virginia as to the question whether she shall raise Mr. Leigh or Judge Barbour to the Presidentship of the United States. It is contended, in a Norfolk paper, that Mr. Leigh is the more to be favored as a candidate, since he has never acted in a national capacity, or in any connection with the national government or concerns! We are quite sure—and we suppose it can hardly be denied—that at least ten out of the twenty four states possess several lawyers of general abilities and reputation equal to those of Mr. Leigh; and it is probable that not one of those lawyers has been, until lately, less known to the country. Therefore, if Mr. Leigh must be preferred, it is because he is of Virginia, or has fraternized with the Nullifiers. Is Mr. Gaston, of N. Carolina, inferior to either Mr. Leigh, or Judge Barbour?—Nat. Gaz.

Antoine Le Blanc, convicted and executed for the murder of Samuel Sayre, wife, and servant, on the night of the 11th of May last, in his own confession, states that he was born on the Rhine, French Germany, 1801, that he frequently used ardent Spirits, which blunted his moral feelings, and swearing, gambling, and fighting, became his amusements,—sported with religious rites, and mocked those whose devotion should have admonished him of his duty to himself and to his God, which led him to the commission of the murder, for which he died an ignominious death upon the scaffold.—Poulson.

Hints to Actors.—Madame Calrion attributed her growing primaturely old to the influence of the griefs and distresses which it was her constant province to represent on the stage; and the malade imaginarie of Moliere is said to have proved fatal not only to Moliere, but to the actor who succeeded him in the part. Pliny has a still more remarkable anecdote to the same effect: he states that there was an actor who imitated the feelings of the gout so naturally, as at length to bring the disorder upon himself.—Poulson.

The Rice Crops, throughout the State, as far as we have heard, says the Charleston, S. C. Courier, are very promising; and, it is said, will yield as much as has ever before been known. On Cooper River, particularly, they present the most luxurious appearance. The weather, for the last three weeks, has been very favorable for harvesting, and considerable progress has been made towards securing the crop. We rejoice that the soil pours her rich stores so profusely into the cup of its skilful and industrious cultivators, to reward them for their toils.

London and Birmingham, and Liverpool and Birmingham.—The cost of the line from London to Birmingham will be 2,500,000*l*. It is intended to pass by Watford, Hemell Hemsted, Tring, Leighton Buzzard, Fenny Stratford, Blisworth Rugby, Coventry, & Stone Bridge, to Birmingham, where the Liverpool line commences. It crosses the road from Birmingham to Wolverhampton, four miles from the latter town, and then passes by Brewood and Penkridge, and nearly in a straight line to join the Liverpool and Manchester railway, about a mile and a half west of Newton. The highest summit it passes between Birmingham and London is at Tring, where it is 419 feet above the sea. The railway at London will be 119 feet, and at Birmingham 367 feet above the sea.

It is estimated that the pecuniary loss to Louisiana by the death of slaves with cholera, is four millions.

From the New York Spectator, Sept. 9.

MAD RIVER AND LAKE ERIE RAIL ROAD.

Owing to the fortunate position of our city by nature, and the aids she has received from art and industry, it happens that almost every improvement that is made in the interior, whether in this or in the remoter states, redounds to the benefit of New York. All the canals and rail roads that are constructed, do, in effect, by their connection with existing means of communication, facilitate the conveyance of goods from this city to their places of consumption, and of the produce of the country in return. Hence it is, that the people of New York have a direct and palpable interest in giving encouragement to works of internal improvement, far beyond the local limits of our state.

This subject has been brought more directly under our consideration in consequence of perceiving that efforts are about being made to carry into effect a law of the state of Ohio, which was passed in January, 1832, to incorporate "the Mad River and Lake Erie Rail Road Company."

Its style does not disclose to the superficial reader the true character and object of the work, which is to unite the waters of Lake Erie with those of the Ohio river.

The rout of this road, as we learn from a western correspondent, will be nearly parallel with the great Ohio Canal, seventy or eighty miles west of it, and passes through a section of country unsurpassed for the richness and fertility of its soil, by any other in the union. The beauty of the country may be imagined by those acquainted with western scenery; but to such as are unacquainted with the capacity and inexhaustable fertility of our southwestern states, their noble rivers and streams, fitted for navigation and hydraulic purposes, its boundless prairies and plains, and its majestic forests, an attempt at description would be labor lost. The distance from Sandusky to Dayton, by the course of the road, as laid down in the preliminary survey, which has been completed by the corps of United States' Engineers detached for the purpose, under the direction of Col. Stansbury, is 153 miles. From Dayton it connects with the Ohio river, at Cincinnati, by means of the Miami canal, sixty five miles. The principal places on the rout of the road are Tiffin, Bellefontaine, Urbana, Springfield, and Fairfield. The four first mentioned places are seats of justice, of the counties of Seneca, Logan, Champaigne, and Clark, respectively. The rout passses near to Upper Sandusky, in the Wyandot Reserve, the head quarters of the Wyandot Indians. Tiffin is on the Sandusky river, thirty five miles south west of Sandusky city, (as Sandusky on Lake Erie is called, to distinguish it from Lower Sandusky, Upper Sandusky, Little Sandusky, and several other places in the state, bearing the same soft cognomen,)—thirty nine miles south of Tiffin, the rout crosses the Scioto river, which is here quite a small stream, and from thence to Bellefontaine is twenty three miles. Urbana is eighteen miles south of Bellefontaine. Between the two last mentioned places, the rout crosses the Mad River, along the fertile valley of which it runs for most of the distance to Dayton. Springfield is fourteen miles south of Urbana, and is distant forty three miles from Columbus. This is a delightful and flourishing town, containing about 1,500 inhabitants, enjoying the advantage of considerable water power, derived from Buck Creek, on which are situated several mills; and receiving, at its eastern entrance, the great national road, which passes through the centre of the states of Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. The rout of the road then continues from this point fourteen miles to Fairfield, which is situated nine miles north of Dayton, the point of its proposed termination.

A meeting of the Commissioners was held, as we learn, at Springfield, Ohio, on the 31st ult. H. G. Phillips, Esq., of Dayton, President of the Board, General Vance, of Urbana, and Judge Mills, of Connecticut, were appointed representatives of the Company, to open the subscription books in the state of New York. These gentlemen will probably visit this state in the approaching month.—There was a disposition manifested, as we are informed, at the meeting of the commissioners, by the friends of the project, to take additional stock, sufficient to enable them to organize by the choice of President and Directors. This was overruled, believing it just that foreign subscribers should participate in the choice. New York, Albany, and Buffalo, were the points designated where it was thought the books should be opened, of which it is expected due notice will be given.

We have been thus particular in stating places and distances, that no misapprehension may arise in the minds of our readers. It will be perceived that the distance from Lake Erie to Cincinnati is reduced by this course to 218 miles. By the way of the canal, which unites with the Lake at Cleveland, the distance to Cincinnati is 412 miles.

Hence it will be seen that this improvement is of great importance to the commercial interests of our city; and the capitalists who have embarked in the Schenectady and Utica Rail Road, cannot fail to discern the expediency of giving it encouragement and support.

A struggle is going on for the advantage of the trade of the Valley of the Mississippi, and the country lying intermediate between the father of rivers and the country of the Lakes, including the rich valies stretching up the navigable streams that in every direction are sprinkled over this fairest portion of the habitable globe. Maryland and Pennsylvania are trying to redeem their lost ground, and to place themselves alongside of New York in their works of internal improvement. We, as a state, have done much—we have taken a lead in canals and roads that places us in bold relief amongst our sister states; but we have not done enough, if we now suffer the advantage gained to pass away.

The general State election of Vermont took place last week. The result is believed to be the most signal triumph of Anti Masonry, which that determined party has hitherto achieved in any place. They have now carried every branch of the government.—Nat. Gaz.

THE WANDERER'S RETURN.

BY H. D. LITTLE, Esq.

I come, once more, a weary man,
  To look upon that holy spot,
Where first my infant life began
  To journey through its changeful lot.

I come!—a thousand shadows play
  Upon the mirror of my mind—
The phantoms of a happier day
  In memory's sacred keeping shrined.

I gaze! and lo! before me rise
  The shades of many a hallowed form:
They pass before my wilder'd eyes,
  With look as blooming, young and warm,

As twice ten years ago they seemed,
  When last in sportive hour we met;
But, ah! we then had never dreamed
  That youth's bright sun so soon would set.

Where are they now?—I find them not,
  Where erst their glorious forms were found!
Each sportive hand, each well known spot,
  Echoes no more the cheerful sound

Of their glad voices.—They are gone
  O'er hills and streams, and vallies wide:
Scattered like leaves by autumn strown,
  Even in their freshest bloom and pride.

The placid brook still winds its way
  Thro' sloping banks bedeck'd with flowers:
The zephyrs thro' the leaflets play,
  The same as in life's early hours.

But times and change have strangely cast
  O'er every spot a lonesome air,
My thoughts, treasur'd with the past,
  My happiest moments centre there.

I feel that e'en my childhood's home
  Hath lost its once mysterious charm!
No voice parental bids me come—
  None greets me with affection warm!

But yet, amid my being's blight,
  One nourish'd thought with fondness glows—
That where mine eyes first hailed the light,
  There they, at last, shall darkly close.

DOCTOR J. B. ROSE,

DENTIST,
(LATE OF REGENT STREET, LONDON,)

RESPECTFULLY informs the inhabitants of Pittsburgh and its vicinity, that he has taken an office, No. 80 Third street, next door to Dr. Burrell, where he performs all operations on the Teeth and Gums, in a style not to be surpassed.

☞ Natural and Artificial Teeth set in the best manner, and at the most reasonable charges.—Also—Porcelain Teeth, from a single one to a whole set.

On the first appearance of Tarter or Scurvy, Teeth should always be cleansed, as the corrosion of the tarter will, in a short time, reach the roots of the Teeth, and they will eventually fall out—when, by attending to them in season, they might be restored, at a trifling expense, to their original beauty.

The operation of Plugging and Filing the Teeth, when decayed, is so truly important that it is impossible to recommend it too earnestly to the attention of the public. Thousands of the most useful Teeth, which otherwise, on account of their painfulness, would be sacrificed by extraction, may thus be preserved for many years. Doctor R., convinced that he can render benefits beyond all price to those who need his assistance, will wait upon families at their residence, if requested, and Teeth brought to a Pearl White at one sitting.

☞ As Dr. R. intends to remain in town but a short time, as early a call as convenient is advisable.

Dr. R. has for sale the British Antisceptic Dentrifice. This elegant Tooth Wash, with a very little use, eradicates the Scurvy in Gums, and prevents the accumulation of Tarter, which not only blackens, but loosens the Teeth, and accelerates their decay; removes the causes of offensive breath, preserves the healthiness of the Gums, and renders the Teeth beautifully white. Price 50 cents per Bottle.

Mechanics' Magazine, and Register of Improvements and Inventions. To the Mechanics of the United States---In this populous and enlightened country, almost every description of persons can obtain knowledge and amusement connected with their peculiar pursuits, through the medium of the Journal or Magazine, especially devoted to their interests. The Theologian, the Farmer, the Philosopher, the Sportsman, and even the Plough Boy, has each his Journal, where he can find a record of the passing events of the day, connected with his peculiar avocations and recreations. Hitherto, the Mechanics (who form a large and most important portion of the community) have had no Journal, to which they could turn, with the certainty of finding that information they desire, no periodical of which they could say: 'This is ours, and for us.' In the hope that the attempt to supply such a want at a price so reasonable as to be within the reach of all, will meet with your active support, the subscriber proposes to publish, on the first day of each month, a Mechanics' Magazine. It will contain a well digested selection of the most useful and interesting articles in the London Mechanics' Magazine, London Register of Arts and Sciences, Repertory of Inventions, Library of Useful Knowledge, Journal of the Franklin Institute, and other works, connected with the arts and manufactures, published in this country and in Europe, accompanied with numerous and well executed Engravings. Its pages will be open for the communications of all, and especially for those of the practical artisan, to whose interest it will be particularly devoted. The Mechanics' Magazine will contain, also, a due portion of the occurrences of the month, Scientific and Literary Reviews of Books, Anecdotes, Economical Receipts, Reports of the state of Mechanics' Institutions, and other Scientific Societies in this state and other countries. To be published monthly. Each succeeding number will contain 64 pages, handsomely printed, and stitched in a neat cover. Six numbers will form a volume, for which an index and title page will be supplied, and also a Portrait of some distinguished Mechanic, as a Frontispiece. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞WELCH MEDICAMENTUM.☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,
From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.
UTICA, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bing my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes givingt emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.
